ANGASTON HERITAGE

The Angaston & Penrice Historical Society (APHS) was established in 1997 with the vision to preserve, share and pass on knowledge of the captivating local history of Angaston & Penrice.

Our activities include staging exhibitions and events, maintaining our archives and collections, conducting Angaston heritage walks and answering family and local history queries.

Our organisation oversees the operation of the heritage listed Angaston Blacksmith Shop & Museum located at 19 Murray Street. It is opened by our dedicated and passionate volunteer blacksmiths and guides on weekends and public holidays from 1-4pm.

Built in 1876, Hardy Doddridge and his brother Bert were the third and final generation operating the business as farriers, wheelwrights and blacksmiths.

The charming cottage next door at 21 Murray Street was once the Doddridge residence, built around the same time as the blacksmith. It is now the Angaston History Centre, with the front two rooms operating as exhibition space.

We welcome new members and encourage participation in our activities such as:
- volunteering as blacksmith/guide
- recording archival material
- arranging exhibitions
- researching local history
- writing articles
- attending workshops
- social functions
- participating on the committee.
